CAN YOU FIND...?

Research is all about asking questions. To answer some of the questions below, you will need to talk to the staff and volunteers you see out around the park.

A camera trap location?

A species we are currently conducting research on, and the purpose of this research?

.....

An animal's diet we have recently altered due to our research?

Become a Dartmoor Zoo researcher! Scan the QR codes around site to help us gather important data on what our animals are up to.

Research is also about gathering information and opinions from lots of sources. Why not ask our team about the questions below then do some of your own research at home to form an opinion

Questions:

- Should animals which eat fruit in the wild be given fruit in zoos?
- There is an increasing effort to re-introduce native animals back into the wild, for instance beavers and pine martens. Should this be allowed to happen? Why?

We would absolutely love to see any work completed after and inspired by our Home Educator day - please feel free to send any work to: education@dartmoorzoo.co.uk if you would like us to see it
